

THE SYMPHONY OF CO-CREATING

Yin 	Die Ruhe Das Dunkle Das Weibliche Das Empfangende
Yang	Die Bewegung Das Lichte Das Männliche Das Schöpferische

Our world is out of balance.

The harmony of yin and yang sought by the universe has become sadly skewed because we have turned our backs on nature. We are striving towards the light, and darkness has become your perceived threat in all areas of our lives.

However, heaven and earth, the entire cosmos, are struggling for this natural balance. We humans are now called upon to actively play our part in restoring this balance.

As co-creators of our built environment, we can make a decisive contribution to a return to a harmonious life on earth.

What does co-creating mean in architecture?

In this online workshop, Kathrin Schmack the idea of co-creating in her planning approach SpiritPlanning.

Duration: 4 hours

Contents:

- What does co-creating mean?
- Why is co-creating so essential for the future of architecture?
- How can we become co-creators?
- Which simple actions can be immediately integrated into ongoing planning processes?

This online training is particularly aimed at female architects and women from the construction industry who want to set out on a journey to bring about real change and actively shape our NEW EARTH as co-creators.

Let's find out what influence our conscious inner attitude as co-creators has on our everyday working life and how we can step by step into a change.

Courage and a consistent approach, in which we are unwaveringly drawn towards our longing goal by the power of our hearts, that is the secret of Kathrin's success.

Through her planning and consultations as a co-creator, she has already helped many people to design their homes in harmony with their true nature. Her clients and customers live a fulfilled life every day thanks to harmonious living spaces that create the best environment for the fulfillment of all areas of life. By designing customized sanctuaries, she aligns the forces of the universe and melds them into a solid building structure that is in harmony with creation.

This wisdom will help us to remember that the universe, with the earth in it, is our greater home, where we have our houses and where we live in our bodies, all nested together like a Russian doll.

Spirit Planning is the architectural instruction to come into contact with the enormous forces of nature through the built space and to become true co-creators in this communicative way.

The teachings of this art are like the invisible thread that holds everything together and brings everything into harmony. You cannot see it, but it is there, woven into everything that surrounds you, the furniture, the walls, the trees, the birds, the minerals, the water, us humans. SpiritPlanning is like a symphony of harmony and peace that becomes louder and louder within us as we embark on the path of co-creation.

We relearn to build buildings that no longer turn their backs on nature.

"The modern built world has turned its back on the soul and forces of nature. We need to look back to nature, to the hidden soul of nature, and from there we builders can create a strong future of architecture for us all." Kathrin Schmack
